TO PROTECT HIMSELF.

Dr. Parkhurst Will Not Ask Supt. Byrnes for a Police Guard.

His Own Agents, He Says, Will Look Out for Him.

Many Threatening Letters Received in His Mail.

Neither attacks upon his agents by a mob, nor the receipt of letters threatening to kill him, seems to have any deterrent effect upon Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst. He was busy with a mass of correspondence when an "Evening World" reporter called upon him at his home, 123 East Thirty-fifth street, this morning. The bodyguard which is said to follow him wherever he goes was invisible, nor was there anything in his appearance to indicate that he was the least bit worried over recent events.

The publication of the story that he had received a threatening letter was subject for discussion throughout the city generally. More friends than he ever thought existed called on him and many inquiries were received from prominent ministers offering sympathy and co-operation. Whether the Doctor thinks the letter to be the production of a crank who really seeks his life, or whether it is the work of an alleged practical joker, he declines to say. He admits, however, that he considers it in a serious light, and has taken steps for his own protection. The contents of the letter he positively refuses to make public.

WAS REV. MR. MYERS SHOT AT?

Brooklyn Police Inclined to Doubt that He Was.

Doubts were expressed by the Brooklyn police

this morning as to whether or not a murderous attack was made on the life of Rev. Charles Myers of the First Baptist Church, on account of his fight against the Democratic ring that is in control of the city.

Mr. Myers lives at 17 St. Mark's avenue.

With his wife he left home about 7 o'clock

last evening to preach in his congregation in the Assembly of the Holy Church, where services have been held since the 11th of the month.

This pair had gone only a few blocks when a crash was heard, and then a shower of stones

was hurled at them. The momentary stoppage of the car caused the driver to turn around and look back. He saw a crowd of men following him, and he saw that they were throwing stones at him. He stopped the car and got out. He was hit on the head and chest by several stones. He fell to the ground and was unconscious for some time.

The police were called and they found the car in the street. They found the driver unconscious and he was taken to the hospital.

The police are now looking for the persons who threw the stones. They are looking for a crowd of men who were seen following the car. They are looking

DECIDES AGAINST KEMPNER.

Police Commissioners Need Not Put His Name on Ballots.

Justice Barrett Defines What Entitles a Candidate to Recognition.

Justice Barrett, of the Supreme Court, has refused, without costs, to grant

Otto Kempner, who wants to be elected to the Assembly as an Independent

Democrat from the Seventh District, and Herman D. Kinkaid, who is now compelling the Board of Police Commissioners to accept certificates of nominations and print official ballots.

The Judge says in his opinion: "The point here involved seems at first to be a small one. But when the effect of a ruling one way or the other is considered, it becomes apparent that the question is quite important. It is important, for instance, that citizens should be facilitated in the exercise of their rights to present independent candidates, and that they should not be obstructed by the narrow or technical interpretation of the statute.

"On the other hand, it is equally important that the expenditure of public money should be kept within their legal bounds, and that taxpayers should not be burdened with the expense of printing ballots for candidates who are without adequate qualifications. Checks are placed upon mere frivolous candidates by the provisions of the statute which require that they should be nominated by a certain number of voters, and that they should be nominated by a certain number of voters, and that they should be nominated by a certain number of voters.

The statute is a reasonable one, and it is not to be construed so as to prevent independent candidates, and that they should not be obstructed by the narrow or technical interpretation of the statute.
